Aims and scope

This conference continues a series of international conferences on generalized functions with the long tradition of gathering researchers working in all branches of this field. The most recent conferences were held in Ghent (Belgium 2020), Novi Sad (Serbia, 2018), Dubrovnik (Croatia, 2016), Southampton (United Kingdom, 2014), Martinique (France, 2011) and Vienna (Austria, 2009). The GF2022 aims at a broad coverage of research on generalized functions and their applications in and interactions with other areas of mathematics and mathematical physics. Topics include, but are not limited to:

- Distributions, ultradistributions, hyperfunctions and algebras of generalized functions
- Linear and non-linear differential equations and stochastic analysis
- Pseudodifferential operators and microlocal analysis
- Geometric problems and non-linear distributional geometry
- Applications in mathematical modeling and mathematical physics
- Harmonic analysis, time-frequency analysis and function spaces
- Functional analytic methods in the theory of generalized functions
